Shakespeare at the Tobacco Factory - Season Workshops 8th Oct 2016 – 6th May 2017

Shakespeare at the Tobacco Factory is one of the leading professional producers of Shakespeare in the UK from our inception fifteen years ago we have mounted annual, two-play spring seasons of Shakespeare and others at our home in Bristol's most exciting theatre.

The course runs over 23 Saturday mornings. Our professional actors work with a group of young people to encourage, stimulate and inspire them to participate in the unique world of theatre. They will be working with members of the company to devise their own performance for the end of the season. Participants are encouraged to embrace the ethos of the company: commitment, respect, and a professional attitude. We hope they'll create new friendships and learn from one another, while developing valuable skills and a love of theatre.

We are also recognised supporters of the Arts Award, and these workshops can be used in support of the award.
